Enodatio Solutions accelerates Laings' bank reconciliations with Auto Bank Rec™

Client Profile

Established in 1862, Laings is a well known, specialist supplier of bathrooms, kitchens and bedrooms. Their reputation for top quality products, workmanship and experience has allowed them to build steadily over recent years and Laings now employs more than 60 staff across four stores with a turnover in excess of £7.8 million.

Objective

Laings had relied upon an existing automatic bank reconciliation program for a number of years. When they installed Access Accounts in 2004, their existing solution needed to be replaced with a package which had the flexibility to operate with their new systems.

Roy Duncan, Financial Director at Laings, explains: "Having sampled the benefits of automatic reconciliation, we knew that manual reconciliation was not an option. We needed an application which could reconcile our accounts quickly and which had a reputation for integrating well with our new accounts software."

Solution

Laings decided to deploy Auto Bank Rec in 2004 and are very pleased with the results.

"Auto Bank Rec is fantastic. It is so much quicker and safer than trying to match transactions by hand." - Assistant Financial Controller, Shirley Andrews

Auto Bank Rec™ - Key Benefits

- (1) Saves time & resources
- (2) Reduces risk of human error
- (3) Provides a flexible solution

The simplest way to reconcile your accounts with your bank statements.

Shirley Andrews, Assistant Financial Controller at Laings, explains:

“Auto Bank Rec works beautifully. Before we started to automate our reconciliations, I would spend almost all my time manually working through the process. Now, our weekly reconciliations take just a few minutes to complete. It really is amazing.”

Flexibility for the Future

When Laings switched banks in 2007, their new bank provided statements in a different bank statement format. Laings were pleased by how easily the software could adapt to import a new style of bank statement.

“The process was very straight forward. It’s great that the software has the flexibility to deal with any changes to our business as soon as they occur,” commented Roy Duncan.

“This means we can feel confident that Auto Bank Rec will meet our needs as our business continues to grow.”

Quick, innovative and easy to use.

Designed to operate with all the main accounts packages and bank statement formats
